FOR CANAL SAFETY Coloring Book

A Message to Parents

Irrigation waters, whether they pass through the open countryside or through the middle of town, can be hazardous to children. Major canals, medium-sized ditches, and small laterals all pose a safety risk, particularly to young children during the irrigation season from April through October. Statistics show that drowning accidents are one of the most common causes of death for children under the age of 14 in the United States.

Please ensure that your child knows how to swim and encourage swimming in a safe place like a supervised area designated for swimming. Never allow your child to swim or fish in a canal or play near a canal bank. It is important that your child understands that canals can be very dangerous.

We hope you will take the time to read through this coloring book with your child and go over its safety lessons. If you would like more information on canal safety, visit our Otto website at <http://www.usbr.gov/pn/about/otto/index.html>.
